Yan' Dargent Museum 1 bourg SAINT-SERVAIS +33 2 98 68 15 21 (Mairie)	The museum displays works by the painter Yan' Dargent, born in Saint-Servais in 1824. The artist is known for his frescoes and canvases that adorn many of the region's religious buildings. He was also a witness to his time, depicting landscapes and portraits from his everyday environment. But it was above all in his depictions of Breton legends that he excelled. His painting Les Lavandières de la nuit, admired by Théophile Gautier, brought him fame. Yan' Dargent also illustrated around two hundred books and contributed to various magazines. A visit to the museum, where a wide range of the artist's paintings and drawings are on display, is complemented by a tour of the parish enclosure of Saint-Servais, with its 17th-century church, elegant calvary and ossuary. Guided tours. Open from Sunday 30 June every day (except Monday) from 2pm to 6pm. Exhibitions : -Serge Marzin, engravings. -'In the footsteps of Yan' Dargent' trail and events to mark the bicentenary of the birth of Yan' Dargent.	Free entrance.
